

ROOSEVELT IS VISITED BY JOHNSON

Vice Presidential Candidate Told by Chief to "Keep Fight Going Full Blast"

COLONEL PUTS IN FINE DAY

Is More Normal Today Than At Any Time Since the Attempt on His Life

SITS UP FOR THE FIRST TIME

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Roosevelt awoke shortly before 7 o'clock this morning full of vim, vigor and vitality. In all he slept about seven hours, which he declared was more than he was accustomed to. His temperature was normal, his color good, eyes bright and manner animated. The Colonel told the nurse he had had "a perfectly bully night."

The few clinical records made during the night would indicate that the Colonel's condition is more nearly normal than it yet has been. He suffers no pain because of the pressure of the bullet against his fractured ribs. The rib itself is now believed to be mending rapidly. So little is the Colonel suffering from the bullet in his body that he almost has forgotten that it is there. He had a ravenous appetite for breakfast.

The following bulletin was issued by Roosevelt's surgeons at 9:30 a. m.:

"Pulse 70; temperature 98.4; respiration 18. Pain in chest diminished. Breathing free. General condition so good that he will be allowed to sit up for an hour today. His convalescence is progressing favorably, and unless some latent infection manifest itself his progress should be rapid."

Governor Hiram Johnson arrived at the hospital at 11:30 o'clock and was admitted to the Colonel's room at once.

"Keep the fight going full blast, Johnson; don't let our boys slack up in their work because I can't be with them for a few days. Tell the people you speak to I wish I could be out there working with you myself, and that I certainly will be as soon as my doctors will let me."

This was Colonel Roosevelt's parting injunction and encouragement to Johnson, Progressive candidate for vice president, when the latter left the presidential candidate at Mercy hospital.

Leaves Hospital Next Week.

Roosevelt will leave Chicago for Oyster Bay Monday or Tuesday of next week. He will travel on one of the slower trains over the Pennsylvania, so that he may enter New York at the station from which the trains to Oyster Bay depart. This program was decided upon today with only the qualification that it depended upon Colonel Roosevelt's continued and uninterrupted improvement, which the attending surgeons now confidently expect.

Schrank Inquires For Colonel.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 18.—John Schrank today for the first time asked a deputy sheriff how Colonel Roosevelt was getting along from the bullet wound inflicted when Schrank shot him Monday night. When informed the Colonel was progressing nicely, Schrank asked if the bullet had been located. He said the bullet belonged to him and that he had made a will bequeathing it to the New York historical society and requesting that it be placed on exhibition in the rotunda of the state capitol at Albany. He again reiterated the statement that he was not sorry he shot the Colonel, that he considered he was doing only his duty.

Roosevelt Wires Taft.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 18.—President Taft received telegrams from Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt in answer to telegrams of sympathy he sent soon after Colonel Roosevelt was shot. The telegram from the Colonel read: "I appreciate your sympathetic inquiry and wish to thank you for it."

The one from Mrs. Roosevelt read: "My family and I unite in thanks for your kind expression of sympathy."

Colonel Replies to Bryan.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—Campaign activities should not cease because of Colonel Roosevelt's attempted assassination, so far as he is concerned. The statement says: "I wish to express my cordial agreement with the manly and proper state-

REV. McCUNE IS HURT.

Struck by Michigan Central Freight Train at Vassar, Mich.

A dispatch from Vassar, Mich., conveys the information that Rev. J. H. McCune, formerly pastor of the Tamarack M. E. church of this city, but who for some time past has been located at Vassar and in charge of the Methodist church at that place, was seriously injured this week, when he was accidentally struck by a Michigan Central freight train. He suffered a broken arm and a number of bruises. His recovery is expected, however.

Rev. McCune started to walk from Vassar to Millington, a neighboring town, where he expected to visit for a few days. He did not hear the approach of the train.

Rev. McCune's many friends in Calumet regret the accident that has befallen him and hope for his early recovery.

DATES FOR THE ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW CHANGED

PRELIMINARY PREPARATIONS ARE MADE FOR THE ANNUAL EXHIBIT.

The Upper Peninsula Poultry association held its regular October meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building last evening. It was decided that the dates of the show would be changed from January 22, 23 and 24 to January 16, 17 and 18 because the former dates conflicted with those chosen for the Houghton show. Judge Taylor of Orleans, Ind., who judged the poultry last January has been communicated with and it has been found that he will be able to visit Calumet on these dates, so that no further obstacle prevented the changing of the dates, the Red Jacket town hall having already been secured.

FINE BATTLE MEMORIAL.

Monument Commemorating Burgoyne's Surrender is Dedicated.

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 18.—In the village of Schuylerville, where the British army under Lord Burgoyne was surrendered to the Americans under Gen. Gates one hundred and thirty-five years ago, following the victorious battle of Saratoga, there was unveiled today a handsome monument to commemorate that event, which, next to the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, was the most important American victory of the Revolution.

Official representatives of all of the thirteen original States took part in the dedication program. Preceding the unveiling exercises there was a military parade, in which regular troops from Fort Ethan Allen and companies of militia and semi-military organizations of several States took part.

The oration at the unveiling was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Henry MacCracken, chancellor emeritus of New York University. Governor Dix delivered an address accepting the monument in behalf of the State of New York.

The Montenegrins pursued and took a number of prisoners and three field guns. The pursuit was continued toward Bozai.

ment of Mr. Bryan. I wish to point out, however, that neither I nor my friends have asked that the discussion be turned away from the principles that are involved. On the contrary, we emphatically demand that the discussion be carried on precisely as if I had not been shot. I shall be sorry if Mr. Wilson does not keep on the stump and I feel that he owes it to himself and the American people to continue on the stump."

WILL RECLAIM 60,000 ACRES

Big Reclamation Project in Colorado Is Started by Government Today

FISHER TURNS FIRST EARTH

Will Require Three Years and Cost Over $3,000,000

Grand Junction, Colo., Oct. 18.—Secretary of the Interior Fisher turned the first shovel of earth today for the construction of the Grand Valley reclamation project. When the work is completed, about three years hence, some 60,000 arid acres in Mesa county will be supplied with an abundance of water and made to blossom as the rose. The government is back of the Grand Valley project, which will cost them between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000. A mammoth 450 foot diversion dam is to be constructed across the Grand River eight miles above, Palisado, which will raise the water of the river nearly twenty feet and divert it into a canal by means of which it will be carried two miles in the open and 1,300 feet through a tunnel drilled out of solid rock through a portion of the Mt. Garfield stone cliffs. It is estimated that 10,000 acres of the 60,000 acres to be reclaimed will be set out to orchards. The remainder will be used for the growing of sugar beets, hay and grain. It is believed that the completion and opening of the project will bring not less than 40,000 settlers to Mesa county.

U. S. SENATOR HEYBURN DEAD.

Prominent Member of the Upper House Passes Away.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—United States Senator Weldon B. Heyburn of Idaho died at his apartments here last night after a lingering illness. He was 69 years old and had been in the Senate since 1905.

A complication of diseases involving the heart and kidneys caused the senator's death. The body will be taken to his old home in Birmingham, Pa., for burial.

Senator Heyburn was born in Delaware in 1852. In 1883 he moved to Idaho, which has been his home ever since. In January, 1903, he was elected to the Senate and in 1909 was unanimously re-elected to serve until 1915.

One of the staunchest of the regular Republicans and a man of strong convictions, frankly and emphatically he pressed on all occasions, Senator Heyburn had for years been a conspicuous figure in the Senate. He was mostly known, perhaps, for his unyielding bitterness toward the south and frequent denunciation of southern Civil war leaders. He called the placing of General Lee's statue in the capitol an insult to the nation and, in discussing this and many other incidents, engaged in acrimonious debate with southern senators.

His wages have been assigned to his wife.

NOTED SLEUTH DEAD IN EAST

Detective Seymour Beutler Knew Fifteen Thousand Crooks

New York, Oct. 18.—Seymour Beutler, for years the identifier for the Pinkerton Detective Agency, is dead at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. David Friedman, 308 West End avenue. He had been ill with pneumonia.

It was said of Beutler that he had a knowledge of 15,000 crooks of various sorts and that those whom he knew would have to put on very effective disguises to keep him from recognizing them again.

For years he went to state and national conventions to look over the crowd that entered the halls for familiar faces; in the racetrack days his post was outside the track to see that no pickpockets got past the gatekeeper.

Most of the crooks whom he knew well enough to pick out of a crowd he had never seen, but his memory for descriptions was so good that he seldom made a mistake. Besides descriptions he made it a part of his work to memorize the records of those he needed to know.

Identified by Ears. For the past thirty years he had been in demand for the entrance to important meetings of all sorts. He had travelled from one end of the country to the other identifying criminals who had never seen him. The ears, Beutler said, were his principal means of identification; they never change and cannot be disguised.

Mr. Beutler was a slender, gray-haired, gray mustached man, but he had great powers of endurance. He was at work on a forgery case one time, where a firm of pork packers had lost $40,000. He traced an employee of the firm to Canada and then decided to put him under surveillance.

Beutler hired an adjoining room and went two days without food or sleep, keeping a constant watch on his man. He wanted to see if his man had certain papers necessary for the case and Beutler didn't leave the door until he made certain that the man had these. An arrest followed and the forger settled with the firm by giving back $35,000.

One of Beutler's famous cases was the arrest of Sophie Lyons, the most notorious and clever woman thief in the United States. He had caught her once in Springfield, Mass., picking a pocket and tried to arrest her. The outery she raised brought a crowd down on Beutler and he was badly beaten.

Remarkable Identification. His identification of Billy Coleman, who stole $200,000 from the Cooperstown, N. Y., office of Ambrose Clark, son-in-law of Bishop Potter, was considered remarkable. Coleman was taken in New York with some of the jewels, but the headquarters detectives could not say who he was. Beutler, who had never seen him, but had seen a photograph of the crook once, accosted Coleman as if he had known him well and the prisoner admitted the identity.

To Pat Sheedy has generally been given credit for recovering the Gainsborough portrait of the duchess of Devonshire, but the story has been told that it was Beutler who first learned where the picture was. A convict sentenced to Dannemora, to whom Adam Worth had confided the hiding place of the picture, told Beutler, and after Sheedy had conducted the negotiation for the return of the picture, Robert Pinkerton delivered it to the Agents in London, the original owners. Beutler has the first copy of the picture ever made.

He had a wide acquaintance with racing men through his own connection with the track and was very popular. Barney Schreiber once named a horse after Beutler. Beutler had charge of the Pinkerton work at the Polo grounds. Three years ago he left the Pinkertons and started the Greater New York Detective Agency.

Mr. Beutler was unmarried and is survived by one sister, Mrs. David Friedman.

PUTS CRIME UP TO GAMBLERS

Becker's Defense Is Rosenthal Was Killed by Own Kind

New York, Oct. 18.—Police Lieut. Charles Becker's defense to the charge of instigating the murder of Rosenthal, the gambler, is that Rosenthal was murdered at the behest of other gamblers, who hated him as a meddler and informer to the police.

John H. Hart, Becker's lawyer, in presenting his case to the jury, so declared today, adding that he would prove Becker "not only not guilty, but absolutely innocent."

"We will prove," Mr. Hart said, "that Webster, Rose, Vallon and Schepps conspired independently of Becker, and with independent motives to murder Rosenthal. After Rosenthal was murdered, and they were rid of one of the two men they hated most in the world, they conspired to get rid of Becker, the other man they hated, by false evidence and perjured testimony."

Mr. Hart added that the defendant had no connection with the gun men and that Rose, Vallon and other alleged conspirators had admitted Becker's innocence. As to Jack Rose, Mr. Hart declared the defense would prove that "he had lied on the stand in every particular."

The case moved swiftly. Witnesses for the defense were sworn within an hour after Mr. Hart concluded his address.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT.

Notices Sent Out to Members of Tourney Committee Today.

Notices were received today by the members of the fire tournament executive committee advising them that the committee will meet tonight, instead of next week, as had been stated. The meeting is for the purpose of hearing reports from the various sub-committees, including the soliciting committee and for disposing of other details in connection with the tourney. The committee in charge of the "Trip to Europe" contest is expected to make public this evening the details of the plans for this contest.

Good results are attending the work of the soliciting committee. The business of Red Jacket are earnest in their desire to show the upper peninsula firemen that this is a live town are co-operating with the committee to the fullest possible extent. It is expected that this evening the Fourth of July committee will turn over the balance remaining from this year's Fourth of July fund, amounting to about $30, which will provide a working fund for the committee.

SHOOTS DOG FOR DEER.

Champ Clark's "Horn Dog Song" has a peculiar appeal for Fred Fecteau of Gratiot Lake. While driving from Central to Phoenix one day this week, a valuable hound owned by Mr. Fecteau, which was running ahead of the rig, was mistaken for a deer and shot. The animal was not killed and when the owner reached the spot, he called upon the hunter to come out and finish his work, but the latter hid behind some brush. As the rig in which Mr. Fecteau was driving made considerable noise, it is difficult to understand how the hunter could have made the mistake.

SOX 11; CUBS 0 AT END OF THIRD INNING IN FINAL CONTEST TODAY.

In the final game for the city championship between the Chicago Nationals and the Chicago White Sox this afternoon the score was 11 to 0 at the end of the third inning in favor of the Sox. The Sox should win handsomely. Smith is pitching for the Sox and Lavender for the Nationals. Previous to today's game each team had won three games. Today's game will decide the city championship.

DEMOCRATIC ORATORY TO BE HEARD HERE MONDAY

TRIO OF GOOD SPEAKERS SCHEDULED TO CONDUCT RALLY AT THEATER.

The copper country Democrats will conduct their second rally of the present campaign at the Calumet theater on Monday evening. Since the big meeting addressed by Woodbridge N. Ferris, early in the campaign, there have been no Democratic speakers here, but Monday will bring three orators, Hon. Kyle Price of Washington, D. C., a man of national reputation and who it is expected will discuss national issues, Hon. Joan Power of Escanaba, candidate for Congress from the twelfth district and Peter Primeau of Marquette, candidate for auditor general on the state ticket. Arrangements have been made to engage a band to serenade on the streets and it is expected the rally will be one of the most enthusiastic of the year.

No word has been received here yet as to whether William Jennings Bryan can be assigned to a date in the copper country, but the Democratic national committee has acknowledged the invitation extended and assured local leaders that if it is possible to arrange Mr. Bryan's itinerary they will do their best to comply with the local request. Definite word is expected in a few days.

Cuddihy Resents M. J. Statement.

John D. Cuddihy of Calumet resents the assertion made in yesterday's Mining Journal that the Democrats of the upper peninsula are deserting John Power of Escanaba, candidate for Congress from this district. The Mining Journal said:

"John Power, the Democratic nominee, is not generally reckoned a serious factor in the contest. Indeed it is perhaps to be questioned whether he will hold the solid Democratic vote. Some Democrats make no bones of their disappointment in the canvass he is making, saying that it is not vigorous enough. They want him to open fire on the G. O. P. in more certain terms. MacDonald will get the votes of the dissatisfied Democrats."

Concerning this statement, Mr. Cuddihy says:

"I don't know a single Democrat voter who is dissatisfied with Mr. Power or his campaign. They will vote for him to a man. The Democrats regard Mr. Power as one of the most fearless and ardent exponents of the principles of the Democratic party and also one of the most conscientious and able leaders in expounding the vital and living issues of the day in any of the three parties in the twelfth district. I do not know of a single Democratic voter who will scratch Mr. Power's name, right here in the home district of the Progressive candidates. If the statement of the Mining Journal is true as to the number of Republican voters who have defected from the Republican ticket in the upper peninsula, we regard Mr. Power's chances of election as fully as good as those of the Republican and Progressive candidates."

NOT AT SACRED HEART.

Through an unintentional error, it was stated this week, the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Barchart of Osceola to Charles Kramer of Akron, O., was solemnized at the Sacred Heart church. Rev. Bartling of the German Lutheran church officiated and the ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barchart. The attendants were Miss Rosa Modrich and John Becker. Mr. and Mrs. Kramer have left for St. Paul and for Cleveland, O.

SOCIAL LIFE IN AMERICA.

"Social life in America" is the theme to be discussed at the weekly meeting of the Calumet Woman's club in the Y. M. C. A. building this afternoon. The principal features of the program will be a paper by Mrs. Alice G. Hennes, and discussion led by Mrs. Margaret C. Goodale, Mrs. Lulu B. Gregg and Mrs. Anna Ingersoll. The club song will also be sung.

START WORK NOVEMBER 1.

It is expected this work can be completed before there is a heavy snowfall.

SENSATION CREATED BY M'CORMICK

Says Attempted Assassination of Roosevelt Was Incited by

Men Like Hilles

STORM OF PROTEST ARISES

Members of Clapp Committee

Are Astounded at Utterance

of Witness

G. O. P. 1904 SECRETARY HEARD

Washington, Oct. 18.—Medill McCormick, of Chicago, stirred up a sensation before the Clapp committee today when, as the first witness at the day's session, he read a prepared statement touching upon the attempted assassination of Colonel Roosevelt, declaring it had been incited by "falsehoods of character assassins and liars like Charles D. Hilles."

"It is difficult for an ordinary man in the compass of ordinary language to compete with the testimony of character assassins and liars like Mr. Hilles—men who, by their falsehoods, incite weak-minded men to actual assassinations," was the passage which brought out a storm of protest from the committee, in which Chairman Clapp joined.

Elmer E. Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee in 1904, placed in evidence before the committee today what he said was a list of contributions to the committee that year, given by the late Cornelius N. Hilles. It itemized contributions by E. H. Harriman, $100,000; "H. H. R." $100,000; J. P. Morgan & Co., $100,000; George J. Gould, $100,000; and many others.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion pugilist, was charged with abducting Miss Lucile Cameron, 19 years old, in a warrant sworn out by the girl's mother, Mrs. F. Cameron-Palcomet, of Minneapolis, today.

The pugilist was arrested shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon at his home and after being formally booked was released so he might get a judge to approve his bonds, which were fixed at $300. The pugilist appeared to be furious because of his arrest. He demanded to see Miss Cameron and procure her release on bail, but his request was refused. The girl was taken in custody yesterday.

REDS GAINING ON BLUES.

The membership contest between the Red and Blue teams of the Calumet Y. M. C. A. is growing decidedly interesting. The Red team made a big gain on the Blues today and are now close to the top. The Reds have secured 21 new members and the Blues 11. Monday evening final team meetings of both teams will be held preparatory to the last two days of skirmishing. There will be a complimentary dinner after the contest the winning side will be dined on turkey and the losers on mush and milk.

DEMOCRATIC COLLEGE MEN.

New York, Oct. 18.—What promises to be the biggest campaign parade the metropolis has seen since the famous "Sound Money" demonstration in 1896 is scheduled for tomorrow, when the Woodrow Wilson College Men's League will march in procession down Fifth Avenue. Candidates on the national and state tickets will head the line. More than 1,000 students are expected to be brought in from Princeton alone, and Yale, Columbia and other colleges within a radius of one hundred miles or so of New York are also expected to participate.

CRICKETERS TO BANQUET.

The members of the Copper Country Cricket league will hold a grand banquet next Thursday evening in the Foresters' hall, Wolverine, at which time Secretary William Reid of Hancock, will present the Norman Haile trophy, symbolic of the county championship, to the Wolverine team, winners for the 1912 season. There will be a program and other features, and the evening doubtless will prove a pleasant one.
